The clever plan

One golden morning, Daisy Duckling hurried to Ellie Elephant's workshop, where sparks twinkled and blueprints fluttered like flags. "Today is the day!" Ellie trumpeted. She worked as a clever assistant at NASA, and she had designed a shining rocket built especially for four brave animal friends.

Gigi Giraffe stretched her long neck to peek at the controls. Ollie Owl polished his round glasses and studied every dial. Daisy flapped her wings with excitement. "Do you really think we can reach the moon in one day?" she asked.

Ellie smiled. "With teamwork, steady hearts, and a little courage, we absolutely can." The friends huddled around the silver model, and Daisy whispered, "Then let's make this the greatest adventure the moon has ever seen."
